NCAA DIVISION II NATIONAL PLAYERS OF THE WEEK – Tuesday, November 25, 2025

Maceo Williams of Ashland University and Olivia Hodges of Western Washington University have been selected as this week's national players of the week by the NCAA Division II Conference Information Directors of America for the week of Nov. 17-23.

MEN: Maceo Williams, 6-7, Redshirt Senior, Ashland Hometown: Gahanna, Ohio

Williams averaged a double-double with 22.3 points and 10 rebounds per game in three Eagle wins last week, recording at least 20 points in all three victories. He finished with 22 points on nine-of-14 shooting with six rebounds, three assists in two steals in a 89-69 win over Salem and followed that with a 25-points, 11-rebound performance with three assists and two steals in a 82-80 win at Indiana (Pa.). Williams made eight of his 11 field goal attempts in that game and did so the next day as well in an 87-79 win over Pittsburgh-Johnstown, a game in which he finished with 20 points, 13 rebounds and two steals.

Williams shot 69 percent from the field in the three contests, while also making 17-of-23 at the free throw line, recording seven assists, a blocked shot and four steals for the 4-1 Eagles. He was selected as the Player of the Week in the Great Midwest Athletic Conference.

WOMEN: Olivia Hodges, 6-1, Senior, Western Washington Hometown: Pasadena, California

The Vikings earned a pair of decisive wins last week thanks to the efforts of Hodges, who finished with double-doubles in both victories. She started her week with a 13-point, 16-rebound performance in the Vikings' 86-57 win over Concordia-Irvine, making all four of her shots from the field and adding two assists, a blocked shot and a steal. Less than 24 hours later, she finished with a career-high 37 points – the third-most in a game in Western Washington history – and 17 rebounds, which is the fifth-highest total in a single game in program history in WWU's 82-65 win over Azusa Pacific. She went 14-of-20 from the field and nine-of-12 at the free throw line in the second game.

Hodges averaged 25 points and 16.5 rebounds per game while going 18-of-24 from the floor, adding three assists, two steals and a blocked shot along the way. Hodges, named as the Great Northwest Athletic Conference Player of the Week, is the NCAA Division II leader in rebounds through Sunday's play for the 5-2 Vikings.
