Weekly Poll Notes:

In a week that saw 12 of the 25 ranked teams suffer losses, Nova Southeastern came away victorious twice in its first week as the nation's top-ranked team and retains the top position in this week's NABC/Division II rankings with two weeks remaining in the regular season for most conferences in Division II.

The Sharks won games over Saint Leo and Florida Southern in their first week at No. 1, but the teams ranked second, third, fifth and sixth a week ago all were handed setbacks to shuffle the rankings below the top spot.

West Liberty moved up two spots to second thanks to the volatility of the past week, while Indiana (Pa.) rose from seventh to third ahead of Lubbock Christian, who knocked off then-No. 24 West Texas A&M but lost a double overtime decision at Cameron two days later.

The top five is rounded out by Augustana, who is at its highest position in the poll since the end of the 2015-16 season that ended with a national championship.

Four new teams entered the rankings this week and two of them – Fort Hays State and Daemen – are appearing for the first time this season. Daemen was last in the national rankings two seasons ago, while Fort Hays State is making its first appearance in the coaches poll since the 2013-14 campaign.

The addition of Fort Hays State to the top 25 gives the Mid-America Intercollegiate Athletics Association a third team in the rankings this week – joining No. 7 Northwest Missouri State and No. 18 Central Oklahoma. Two other conferences, the California Collegiate Athletic Association and Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference also have three representatives apiece.

The NCAA is scheduled to release the first of its three weekly regional rankings on Wednesday, Feb. 16.
