2014-15 Rankings – Feb. 17, 2015 (Poll #12)

KANSAS CITY, Mo. – After holding off Florida Tech in overtime Saturday, Florida Southern holds onto the nation's top ranking for the second consecutive week in the latest NABC/Division II rankings.

The Moccasins picked up a pair of wins last week – including the 82-79 win at Florida Tech – to stay atop a poll that saw limited change on the top end. The top three spots went unchanged, as Augustana stayed at No. 2 and Bellarmine at No. 3. Last week's fourth-ranked team, Angelo State, lost at Tarleton State to move a number of teams up as a result.

Barry jumped from sixth to fourth this week while Lincoln Memorial stayed at No. 5. The next four teams all moved up one spot apiece, starting with sixth-ranked Indianapolis.

West Liberty is seventh this week, followed by Minnesota State-Moorhead, Metropolitan State, while Angelo State is 10th and Tarleton State 11th.

Wisconsin-Parkside remains at No. 12, while Mount Olive moved up a spot to 13th. The next three teams all moved up three places in the rankings, with Colorado School of Mines at No. 14, Western Oregon at 15th and Central Missouri at No. 16.

California Baptist moved up to 17th and Pacific West Conference rival Azusa Pacific also moved up five spots as well to 18th, with Lake Superior State and Colorado-Colorado Springs rounding out this week's top 20.

The final five teams in this week's poll are University of the Sciences, BYU-Hawaii, UNC Pembroke, Saginaw Valley State and Southern Connecticut State.

The next poll will be released Feb. 24. The NCAA will release its first regional rankings on Wednesday, Feb. 18.
